

Ben Heidinger Group 17 Individual Status Report 5

Section 1, Previous Week's Goals:

I am going to create the HTML and CSS for all the pages as well as implement the feature I was assigned in the backlog: being able to edit events. I need to really focus and get a lot of work done so that we can have a minimum viable product by Sunday.

Section 2, Weekly Progress:

1. What I've done: I finished most of the stuff I said I would. I helped implement the HTML and CSS and helped with my feature of editing events.
2. What worked: We were able to get everything for the minimum viable product as well as merge all of our stuff together and communicate to get everything done.
3. What I learned: I learned more about databases and editing things from the flask activities that I used for my feature. I also learned more about merging branches and branches in general in github.
4. What I had trouble with: I had trouble with branches for while as well as getting some of the database stuff to work.
5. What I got stuck on: I got stuck on the merging and various things with github along with the databases and implementing them.

Section 3, Future Plans:

Now that the minimum viable product is done I am going to further improve the CSS of each page as well as implement the feature of being able to change the theme on a per-profile basis.
