

Team Status Report #6

Last Week's Goals:

- Extend FLASK app by updating an existing route or adding a new route for one or more additional features
- Update/Create the needed view(s). Be sure the CSS styles carries through to this new view.
- Test App regularly to be sure everything is working.
- Commit changes regularly with pertinent messages.
- Update product backlog.

Progress:

This week we worked on adding the additional features, testing the development of these features, and committing changes. The features added were updating and creating needed views, adding a page color changing function, adding a profile and edit-profile page as well as a few others. The most challenging thing that we dealt with was stitching the application together, testing to make sure the individual parts were free of errors and sourcing information on how to implement these features.

Next Week's Goals:

The goals for next week are to finish any last-minute design and CSS improvements. We also need to finish testing the application for edge cases faults. After were done with the application, we will start developing our presentation and how to pitch the product.

Agenda for the meeting with Team:

The instructional team will meet two times during the week to complete and assess where we are on the project, information about the scheduled dates and time will be put out to the team on discord.
