

Ben Heidinger Group 17 Individual Status Report 6

Section 1, Previous Week's Goals:

Now that the minimum viable product is done I am going to further improve the CSS of each page as well as implement the feature of being able to change the theme on a per-profile basis.

Section 2, Weekly Progress:

1. What I've done: Made minor improvements to CSS and began research for the ethical part of the presentation. Also helped with website testing.
2. What worked: Everything is coming together very well. We have 6 extra features and testing went well. That means that our website overall is working well.
3. What I learned: I learned about the plugin that is used to upload pictures on Flask from another groupmate and further delved into the ethics side of software engineering.
4. What I had trouble with: I had trouble getting some of the new plugins that other groupmates used while testing the application.
5. What I got stuck on: I got stuck on getting flask to start after many of the new merges with new plugins.

Section 3, Future Plans:

We just need to focus on the presentation now. I am handling the powerpoint we will be using for it in addition to my speaking part.
